

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE

Published every Thursday at Grande Prairie, Alberta. The Tribune is a thoroughly independent news field with fairness to all sections and parties; also to the fact that the government of the Peace River Country and help make known this "Northern Alberta" many adventures in the west. All news is printed without intentional distortion. The opinions are expressed only in the editorial column.

Letters for publication are welcome. A pen name may be used, though correspondents must not necessarily be published, but as evidence of good faith in publishing a communication, The Tribune does not imply agreement with any opinions contained therein.

J. B. YULE, Editor

Subscription Rates:
One Year, in British Empire... $1.00
Half Year, in British Empire... .75
One Year, in United States... 1.50
Legal and other advertising rates furnished on application.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1934

Along The Trail

By A. B. YULE

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The writer of this column has from time to time stated that there are many weaknesses in an abnormal desire for green peas. The desire to advertise is indicated by the following little incident which took place last week.

Capt. Blake of the Bad Heart county, who has been advertising a bag of "I notice that you are fond of green peas," was approached without any more ado he dumped about a quarter of a bushel of green peas into the car. The captain was not a little surprised to find that the peas were not the same as the ones he had been told were "high wide and handsome" in no time. To be brief, this was one time I had to call quite. Not only that but there was enough left to go round all the time.

The Bad Heart county is one of the few sections which I have been visiting, although I have longed to do so, but something always intervened and the plans were not made. Any district that can grow such peas deserves a special mention. In fact the district is more endeared to me than ever before.

U.F.A. Out To Fight Says Hugh Allen

(Continued from Page One)

Referring briefly to meetings he had attended, the speaker said that the U. F. A. members were displaying greater interest and enthusiasm than before. He said that the organization was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Mr. Allen then had something to say about Mr. C. G. McCreary, with whom, he said, he agreed on many points. He contended that the speaker was far from being a modest villain, but was simply standing for a more equitable way of life.

Mr. Allen then went into the matter of the Government House, which was discussed by Mr. Howson at Grande Prairie. "Three hundred and forty thousand dollars were spent by the Liberals in the construction of the Government House and improvement of the grounds," said Mr. Allen, who added that the U. F. A. had spent only $15,000 on its upkeep since taking office.

Maintaining of Government House, Mr. Allen said, had been a subject of discussion in the legislature. A Liberal member moved that the office of Lieutenant-Governor be kept away from the government, but the speaker said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Continuing, Mr. Allen observed there was a right and proper way to do it and that there was also a foolish way. He contended that the speaker was far from being a modest villain, but was simply standing for a more equitable way of life.

Mr. Allen then took up the charges of extravagance and the statement that the government was a travelling circus. He said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Mr. Allen then took up the charges of extravagance and the statement that the government was a travelling circus. He said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

one. He read figures to show that the expenses of the ministers are far less than those incurred by ministers of the previous Liberal government.

"You can take every department and you will find that the administration costs less than in 1921, notwithstanding the fact that the government is now spending more than 100 per cent more money."

Mr. Allen then pointed out that in 1921 the population of the province was approximately 500,000, and at present it is 1,000,000. The U. F. A. government, he said, had built the greater portion of the roads. Schools had increased in number and other services likewise, but notwithstanding this, the costs are actually less than in 1921.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs then dealt with Mr. Howson's suggestion that the government approach the bondholders with a view to inducing them to cut the interest rate upon such time as the government could pay. Mr. Allen termed the suggestion as "absolutely impossible."

Continuing, Mr. Allen said that as the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

Mr. Allen then pointed out that the bondholders were scattered it was absolutely impossible to approach them. He saw no more reason why the bondholders should be asked to reduce their interest than the banks on personal obligations. The regulation of debts by government means regulation all round on the part of the bondholders.

THE FIRESIDE PHILOSOPHER

By ALFRED SIGGS

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE

Published every Thursday at Grande Prairie, Alberta. The Tribune is a thoroughly independent news field with fairness to all sections and parties; also to the fact that the government of the Peace River Country and help make known this "Northern Alberta" many adventures in the west. All news is printed without intentional distortion. The opinions are expressed only in the editorial column.

Letters for publication are welcome. A pen name may be used, though correspondents must not necessarily be published, but as evidence of good faith in publishing a communication, The Tribune does not imply agreement with any opinions contained therein.

J. B. YULE, Editor

Subscription Rates:
One Year, in British Empire... $1.00
Half Year, in British Empire... .75
One Year, in United States... 1.50
Legal and other advertising rates furnished on application.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1934

Along The Trail

By A. B. YULE

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The writer of this column has from time to time stated that there are many weaknesses in an abnormal desire for green peas. The desire to advertise is indicated by the following little incident which took place last week.

Capt. Blake of the Bad Heart county, who has been advertising a bag of "I notice that you are fond of green peas," was approached without any more ado he dumped about a quarter of a bushel of green peas into the car. The captain was not a little surprised to find that the peas were not the same as the ones he had been told were "high wide and handsome" in no time. To be brief, this was one time I had to call quite. Not only that but there was enough left to go round all the time.

The Bad Heart county is one of the few sections which I have been visiting, although I have longed to do so, but something always intervened and the plans were not made. Any district that can grow such peas deserves a special mention. In fact the district is more endeared to me than ever before.

U.F.A. Out To Fight Says Hugh Allen

(Continued from Page One)

Referring briefly to meetings he had attended, the speaker said that the U. F. A. members were displaying greater interest and enthusiasm than before. He said that the organization was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Mr. Allen then had something to say about Mr. C. G. McCreary, with whom, he said, he agreed on many points. He contended that the speaker was far from being a modest villain, but was simply standing for a more equitable way of life.

Mr. Allen then went into the matter of the Government House, which was discussed by Mr. Howson at Grande Prairie. "Three hundred and forty thousand dollars were spent by the Liberals in the construction of the Government House and improvement of the grounds," said Mr. Allen, who added that the U. F. A. had spent only $15,000 on its upkeep since taking office.

Maintaining of Government House, Mr. Allen said, had been a subject of discussion in the legislature. A Liberal member moved that the office of Lieutenant-Governor be kept away from the government, but the speaker said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Continuing, Mr. Allen observed there was a right and proper way to do it and that there was also a foolish way. He contended that the speaker was far from being a modest villain, but was simply standing for a more equitable way of life.

Mr. Allen then took up the charges of extravagance and the statement that the government was a travelling circus. He said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Mr. Allen then took up the charges of extravagance and the statement that the government was a travelling circus. He said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

Mr. Allen then took up the charges of extravagance and the statement that the government was a travelling circus. He said that the government was not breaking up, but was out to fight.

THE FIRESIDE PHILOSOPHER

By ALFRED SIGGS

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

Anger kills justice.

A quick temper ruins judgment.

Indifference has ruined many a reputation.

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE

Published every Thursday at Grande Prairie, Alberta. The Tribune is a thoroughly independent news field with fairness to all sections and parties; also to the fact that the government of the Peace River Country and help make known this "Northern Alberta" many adventures in the west. All news is printed without intentional distortion. The opinions are expressed only in the editorial column.

Letters for publication are welcome. A pen name may be used, though correspondents must not necessarily be published, but as evidence of good faith in publishing a communication, The Tribune does not imply agreement with any opinions contained therein.

J. B. YULE, Editor

Subscription Rates:
One Year, in British Empire... $1.00
Half Year, in British Empire... .75
One Year, in United States... 1.50
Legal and other advertising rates furnished on application.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1934

ILLUSTRATED NEWS OF THE WEEK

A SPECIAL TRIBUNE FEATURE

THE BEST OF THE WEEK'S INTERESTING NEWS PICTURES

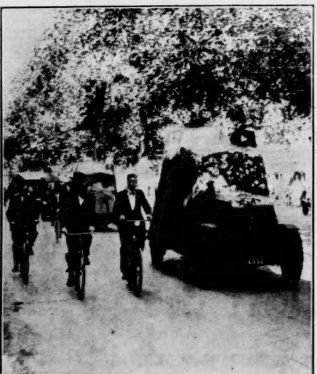

THE DAVIS CUP AGAIN WON BY GREAT BRITAIN

The most international annual sporting series in the world, The Davis Cup, was won July 31 by Great Britain, when Fred Perry, the world's No. 1 ranking star, whipped Frank Shields and Bunny Austin defeated Sidney Wood. Britain made a clean sweep of all four singles matches in the final, only losing the one doubles match, which would pretty well demonstrate their right to the famous emblem of world tennis supremacy. Here is shown, left to right: H. W. "Bunny" Austin, second ranking star of Great Britain; Perry and Sidney Wood, the British doubles combination; and Fred Perry, generally acclaimed as the world's first ranking star.

VIVIAN, THE AUSTRALIAN "GIANT-KILLER"

In summing up their chances to reach the challenge round of the Davis Cup series, the United States figured they would defeat Australia easily, but in this they underestimated the prowess of the "giant-kill" in the Australian team, Vivian McGrath, 19-year-old star, who, by virtue of his unusual backhand stroke, when he uses two hands, is considered an unorthodox player. McGrath defeated Sidney Wood of the United States in four sets on the opening day of the Inter-Zone final at Wimbledon, and thereby endorses the Americans' chances of reaching the challenge round against Great Britain. However, the United States won, it being generally conceded Crawford, for Australia, had to carry too heavy a load. He played two single matches and also with Quist in the doubles. Above is shown McGrath with his wondrous backhand stroke in action, while inset is a picture of Sidney Wood of the United States, whom the Australian defeated.

ARMORED CARS IN AMSTERDAM

So serious was the rioting in Amsterdam recently between the police and unemployed Communists that armored cars were rushed to the "diamond" city to prepare for further outbreaks. Many were injured in the clash which was caused by the cut in unemployment allowances. Here are seen two armored cars prowling around Amsterdam, presumably looking for trouble.

Here and There

The Open Dominion championship match in the Dominion Marksmen Revolver competition was won recently by the Canadian Pacific Railway Ontario police team with a score of 1435 points out of a possible 1500. R. C. M. P. civic and provincial police also competed.

Plans for the musical festival of Western Canada during the coming year with a tentative discussion of policies for the next two seasons, were featured at a meeting of delegates of Western Competition Festivals recently at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary.

John Jacob Aster and his bride have decided to extend their honeymoon tour to the Canadian Rockies and British Columbia. "We intend to stop over at Lake Louise," said the young millionaire, "and then move on to Vancouver, taking in the sights on the way."

Captain R. G. Latta, skipper of the liner Empress of Britain and commander of the Canadian Pacific fleet, retired from active duty recently. He was succeeded on the bridge of the Britain by Captain R. N. Stuart, V.C., D.S.O., V.A.N.C., R.D., R.N.R. Stuart was promoted to the post of commander of the Canadian Pacific fleet.

Indicating the trend towards greater production and recovery of minerals, substantial increases in the second quarter of 1934 as compared with the corresponding period of 1933 is shown in the recently published production figures of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, one of the world's greatest mining companies.

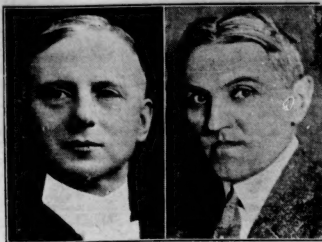

Driving a highly decorated locomotive into the Canadian Pacific Railway depot at the end of the Calgary-Edmonton run recently, A. N. Hobbs, veteran engineer, completed 41 years of continuous service with the railway, most of it at the throttle of an engine. "I have always liked my work and I hate to quit," said Mr. Hobbs.

Founded June 18, 1874, by George and Mathew Beatty and with agencies, warehouses, offices or depots across Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and fifty other countries, the national of Beatty Bros. manufacturers of washing machines and farm implements, celebrated its Diamond Jubilee at Piquette, Ont., last month.

John F. Sweeting, industrial commissioner of the Canadian Pacific Railway, states in an official publication of the railway that there is a decidedly firm tone of confidence in the West and increased activity in many industries, with the tourist business promising to be better at all resorts this year.

An increase of $7,300 in the Nova Scotia lobster catch during the month of May was instrumental in raising the landed values $322,458 over the same month in 1933, according to an announcement by the Department of Fisheries on June 28th.

"With a soundly administered unified system, Canada would be able to anticipate within a reasonable period of time, a balanced railway budget and would be able to finance any justifiable extensions which expanding settlement and development might in future demand," R. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, declared in a recent speech advocating unification, for administrative purposes of the two major railways.

CHANGES IN QUEBEC COUNCIL

A cabinet shuffle of the Quebec government involving a new speaker for the legislative council and changes in other posts, was announced recently by Premier Taschereau. At the left is Hon. Hector Laferte, who becomes the new speaker of Quebec's Upper House, while at the right is Hon. W. G. Power, member of the legislative council, who has been appointed a member of the Quebec Liquor Commission.

FIGURES IN GOVERNOR SQUABBLE

Ole H. Oasen (right), lieutenant-governor of North Dakota, who assumed the governor's chair after Governor William Langer was convicted of a federal offense, is shown at his desk after taking over the office. Also shown is Mrs. Langer, wife of the ousted governor, who is being backed as the successor of her husband.

ENGLAND GOES AFTER THE "BANDITS"

England has introduced high-speed methods to deal with the modern criminal, and recently an aeroplane and a flying-squad car cooperated in a demonstration of the efficiency of the new method. The plane and pursuing police car both kept in touch with each other by means of radio-telephony, and the "bandits" were speedily captured. This composite picture from London shows the contact between the plane and the police car. The policeman is talking to the pilot by means of a hand microphone.

The Princess Elaine, popular Vancouver-Nanaimo ferry of the Canadian Pacific R.C. Coast steamship service, is back from overhaul with the very latest in lunch rooms installed aboard. It is 40 feet long and 12 feet wide, and is provided with lunch counter and tables.

General improvement in business is apparent throughout Canada although many problems still remain to be solved in the opinion of Jackson Doodie, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, who sailed for Europe aboard the Empress of Australia recently.

The Canadian Pacific 42500-ton Atlantic flagship Empress of Britain completed her world cruise of 30,000 miles last month on arrival at New York and sailed again for Cherbourg and Southampton to be fitted for her normal season sailings between Southampton and Quebec.

The FIRESIDE PHILOSOPHER

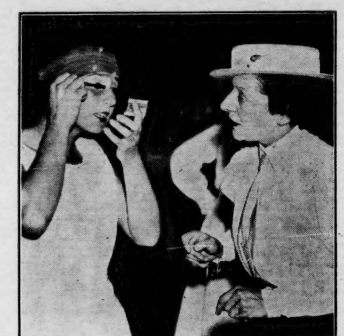

By ALFRED BIGGS

Nobody loves an egotist.
 * * *
 Wisdom is better than wealth.
 * * *
 Waste no tears over yesterday.
 * * *
 It is often harder to live than to die.
 * * *
 We are all slaves to habit and custom.
 * * *
 Ignore misfortune and it will ignore you.
 * * *
 A mind perennially young is a fountain of youth.
 * * *
 Age war-mongers demand young victims.

PROMINENT IN AUSTRIAN TURMOIL

(Left) Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, minister of education in the Austrian cabinet, who was Chancellor for a day, following the murder of Dollfus. (Right) Dr. Kurt Roth, German minister to Austria, who has been recalled by his government for intervening in Vienna's Nazi "putch" without the consent of German authorities.

FAMOUS PLAYERS IN OLD-TIME COSTUMES

When Lady Waverley gave a lawn tennis ball at Grosvenor House, London, recently, some of the world's most famous players took part in an old-time costume parade. Here we see Dorothy Round (left), England's new world's champion, trying to disguise herself as Suzanne Lenglen of several years ago. She wore one of the French star's costumes, made about 1922, and Miss Lenglen (right), herself in a tennis outfit of the gay nineties, supervised the makeup.

JOHN BULL: "I'm sorry you've got eye trouble, Hammy. Take a rest now, old man, and get fit for the next test.—Strike, in the London Daily Express.

(Premier MacDonald of Great Britain is spending a vacation at Digby, N.S., on his physician's advice.)

